FOREWORD

This list has been prepared to meet greatly varying conditions — the needs of public schools and private schools, large city schools with trained librarians and small village schools with no librarian at all, schools that have but little money to spend for library books and those with considerable means at their disposal, schools a large proportion of whose graduates go to college, and those that prepare their pupils for some form of business life. To meet all these demands there must be a rather long list of books from which a selection may be made. To lessen the difficulty of selection, a small number of books are double-starred, thus indicating books that it is thought every school library should have. A larger number of books are marked with a single star. These are the books that, on the whole, are believed to be the most desirable if a school wishes to buy more than are given in the double-starred list. There is a much larger number of books that are not marked at all. All these are annotated so it will be easy to make such selections as are needed by any particular school or for any particular purpose.

It should not be forgotten that this list is purely suggestive and in no sense mandatory. The Department will duplicate on books not on this list, or on any other list, just as readily as on the books listed here, provided it is believed that they are well suited for school libraries. If all the good books published were on this list, it would be so long as entirely to defeat the purpose in mind, namely, a list short enough so that a good selection can readily be made.

In making this list the very great differences in conditions have been taken into account — differences in schools, in teachers, in pupils, and in communities; and it is hoped that the teachers will try to recognize the differences in pupils who are so unlike in inheritance, environment, tastes and ability.

It is not intended to include any high school textbooks in this list, though it is well worth the while of the teacher to have several good textbooks on the subject she is teaching. It is not within the province of the Department to discriminate between textbooks.

This bulletin is intended not to replace any other Department publication, but to afford an annotated list to aid in the selection of books for the libraries of the secondary schools in the same manner as did an earlier bulletin prepared for elementary schools.

Some books are to be read completely and carefully, others only in part, and still others just skimmed. Adults who read much learn to do this. Pupils while in school should be taught to do so. It is frequently well to call the attention of the pupils to a particular chapter of a book, or even a part of a chapter, that is of especial interest or value, while the book as a whole might be one in which the children would not be greatly interested.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

The School Libraries Division wishes to express its appreciation of the work of those who have done so much toward making this publication of value. It is greatly indebted to the State school inspectors, State Library officials, and many teachers and librarians. It is under special and great obligation to the members of the High School Librarians' Association of New York City.

HISTORY

It should be borne in mind that, however important it may be that pupils should acquire some knowledge of history, it is far more important that they should acquire a fondness for historical reading, and that they should have some knowledge as to what books are best worth reading.

A fondness for historical reading is most easily aroused through the use of collateral reading. To accomplish this, the pupils must have an interest in what they read. There is a general tendency in high schools to select books that are beyond the great majority of the pupils, books that they do not like and in which they can not become interested. It should not be forgotten that little good will come to the pupils through reading books in which they have no interest. If the pupils are required to do very much of that kind of reading they are likely to leave school with a dislike for all useful reading. It is not to be expected that high school pupils can read many of the books that would appeal to a mature and cultivated mind. Their time has not yet come for that and it is greatly to be feared that much of the instruction in literature in our high schools tends to prevent its ever coming.

Nowhere is there greater need for tact and good judgment than in directing the reading of pupils. In fact there should not be very much direction. The teacher should constantly suggest, but rarely insist upon, the reading of a particular book. In connection with the lists of books on history are listed books of biography, historical poems, and historical fiction, in order to add to the interest and pleasure of the young readers.

There can not be much uniformity in the matter of reading general literature in school, nor much class work with profit. Pupils have different tastes. The part of history that appeals to one may be distasteful to another. Let each pupil read that which appeals to him but with some definite purpose. Compulsion should not go beyond the textbook. If there is an occasional discussion by the class, as there should be, in regard to the reading done out of the class, each pupil will get out of that exercise about all that can be given to him at that time in any way.

As a rule historical fiction should be read after the history is known. One does not read historical fiction for the purpose of learning history, but to vivify the history already known. Carlyle, speaking of the Waverley novels, says, "These historical novels have taught all men this truth, which looks like a truism, and yet it was as good as unknown to writers of history and others, till so taught, that the bygone ages of the world were actually filled by living men, not by protocols, state papers, controversies and abstractions of men."

In arranging this list, the history section is subdivided as follows, in order to conform to the work as outlined in the Syllabus for Secondary Schools: Ancient history, History of Great Britain and Ireland, Modern history, and American history. Each of these groups is divided into History, Civics, Biography, Historical poems, and Historical fiction.

BOOKS FOR REFERENCE AND FOR TEACHERS' USE

It is thought wise to make a short list of books that neither teachers nor pupils will use except for the purpose of reference, but which are valuable for this purpose, and of which each school should possess a good number. Teachers ought not to forget that the majority of pupils do not know how to use reference books to advantage. They ought to be very carefully instructed in this matter. This would not require a great amount of time, and in the end it would be a great saving to the pupils and would tend to create a habit that would be valuable all through life.

Very many standard works of all kinds can be had second-hand, practically as good as new, for a very small part of the published price.

016 Adams, Charles Kendall. Manual of Historical Literature.
Harper $2.50

An attempt to name and criticize the more prominent works of historical literature. The author in his preface says, "What histories shall I read with most profit? What historical books shall I put into the hands of my son and my daughter? What course and what methods will be most advantageous to our historical club? What histories shall we buy for our town and college libraries? What shall I buy for my own library?" The latest edition of this work was published in 1901.

901 Adams, George B. Civilization During the Middle Ages.
Scribner $2.50

"A fairly accurate, though uneven, account of the institutions of medieval Europe." Nation

A valuable work of reference with an excellent bibliography.

016 Andrews, Gambrill & Tall. A Bibliography of History for Schools and Libraries. Longmans 60c

An inexpensive and helpful work. It is classified and annotated and covers the whole field of history.

907 History Syllabus for Secondary Schools. Heath $1.25

A very helpful book. It is a history syllabus with an outline of work and lists of books.

973 ——— American Historical Review (quarterly). Macmillan $4

A somewhat expensive publication, but a valuable one. Its book reviews and notes are excellent.

914 Baedeker, Karl. Northern Italy. Scribner $2.40

——— Central Italy and Rome. Scribner $2.45

——— Southern Italy and Sicily. Scribner $1.80

——— Greece. Scribner $3.25

While these are guide books they contain much interesting information and schools that are able to have large libraries may use them to advantage.

907 Bourne, H. E. Teaching of History and Civics. Longmans $1.50

A complete bibliography is given at the head of each chapter. There are numerous references to and quotations from other writers. The chapters on "The Meaning of History" and "The Value of History" are particularly valuable.

016 Channing, Hart & Turner. Guide to the Study and Reading of American History. Ginn $2.50

A very useful book for both teachers and pupils. It has a well-selected bibliography of American history and a long series of topics on colonial and United States history. Very fully indexed.

942 Colby, Charles W. Selections from Sources of English History. Longmans $1.50

This will be found to be a very helpful work.

909 Crane, Stephen. Great battles of the World. Lippincott $1.50

The subjects chosen seem to have been selected quite as much on account of their adaptability for picturesque presentation as for their historical importance; nevertheless the book is a good one both for reference and for reading by the pupils. Contents: Battle of Bunker Hill, Vittoria, Siege of Plevna, Storming of Burkersdorf Heights, Swede's Campaign in Germany, Storming of Badajos, Brief Campaign against New Orleans, Battle of Solferino.

909 Creasy, Sir Edward S. Fifteen Decisive Battles of the World. Harper $1.25

While this book is not of the highest historical value, it is a very convenient work of reference. Contents: Marathon, Defeat of the Athenians at Syracuse, Arbela, Battle of Metaurus, Victory of Arminius over the Roman Legions under Varus, Chalon, Tours, Hastings, Joan of Arc's Victory over the English at Orleans, Defeat of the Spanish Armada, Blenheim, Pultowa, Saratoga, Valmy, Waterloo.

Recent editions have the following additional topics: Quebec, Yorktown, Vicksburg, Gettysburg, Sedan, Manila Bay, Santiago, Tsushima.

938 Davis, William Stearns. Readings from Ancient History. and 2 v. (1) Greece and the East, (2) Rome and the West.

937 Allyn $1 ea.

These volumes are for reading rather than study and may be used in connection with any textbook.

- 938 Fling, Fred Morrow. Source Book of Greek History.
Heath $1

Extracts from Greek literature intended to supplement high school work in Greek history.

- 930 ——— Greek and Roman Civilization. Ainsworth $1

Contents: Homeric Age, Athenian Constitution, Alexander's Method of Warfare, Achaean League, Roman Constitution, Roman Life at the Time of the First Punic War, Roman Life of the Jugurthine Period, Roman Life under the Empire, Roman Law.

- 913 Gardner & Jevons. Manual of Greek Antiquities. Scribner $4

A valuable and comprehensive work. Contains a list of works on Greek antiquities.

Contents: The Land and the People, The Cities, The Homes, Dress, Religion and Religious Ceremonies, Philosophy, Education, Commerce, Slavery, War, The Theater, and Constitutional and Legal Antiquities.

- 903 Harper's Book of Facts. Compiled by Willsey; edited by Lewis. Harper $8

A classified history of the world, embracing science, literature and art. A work for the larger school libraries only.

- 913 Harper's Dictionary of Classical Literature and Antiquities. Edited by H. T. Peck. Amer. Bk. Co. $6

Rather expensive but covers a wide field; not only archeology but biography, geography, history, literature, and mythology as well.

- 973 Harper's Encyclopedia of United States History. 10 vols. $35

An excellent reference history but altogether too expensive for all schools except those that are able to have large libraries.

- 973 Hart, Albert B. Source Book of American History. Macmillan 60c

The selections are chiefly letters, extracts from books, pamphlets, and periodicals. Covers the period from the discovery by Columbus to the War with Spain.

- 973 Hart & Channing. American History Leaflets, 36 nos. Simmons 10c ea.

"These leaflets are designed to promote the scientific method of studying history from its documents, and furnish in convenient form, and at a moderate price, copies of original documents that have become famous in our colonial and constitutional history as the outcome of some important crisis, or as exponents of the theories underlying our form of government. Each leaflet contains a brief historical introduction and bibliography to aid further investigation by the student."

- 342 *Hill, Mabel. Liberty Documents. Longmans $2

Twenty-four documents are given covering the period from 1100 to 1899, including such subjects as the Magna Charta, Jury Trials, Habeas Corpus Act, Bill of Rights, Stamp Act, Virginia Bill of Rights, Declaration of Independence, Articles of Confederation, The Northwest Ordinance, Constitution of the United States, Washington's Farewell Address, the Rights of Slaves and of Their Race, and the Reconstruction Amendments. In each case a copy of the document considered is given, together with contemporary exposition and critical comments. Brief suggestions form the opening of each chapter. A very helpful book.

- 902 Heilprin, Louis. Historical Reference Book (revised to 1898). Appleton $2

Has a chronological table of universal history, a chronological dictionary of universal history, a biographical dictionary with geographical notes.

"The handiness of all this information is equalled by the accuracy of it, in which few similar works can challenge comparison with Mr Heilprin's."

Nation

- 907 Johnson, Henry. The Teaching of History. Macmillan $1.40

One of the best works of its class.

- 905 History Teachers' Magazine. McKinley Pub. Co. $2

Edited under the supervision of a committee of the American Historical Association. It is the official organ of a number of history teachers associations. Contains reviews of textbooks, articles upon current history, reprints source material and reproduces historical pictures and documents.

- 942 Kendall, M. E. K. Source Book of English History. Macmillan 80c

"Treats of important aspects and events of English history by illustrating the dominant interest of each period with extracts from the various kinds of original material—diaries, letters, speeches etc. A useful supplement to the school textbook, securing some of the advantages which result from a study of sources." Pittsburgh

- 903 Larned, J. L. History for Ready Reference. 6 vols. Nichols $30

Altogether too expensive a work for schools that are limited in the amount of money they have to expend. The arrangement, with its many cross references, is somewhat complicated and comparatively few pupils will refer to it unless somewhat carefully instructed in its use. It is perhaps the most complete work of its kind and will be useful for the teacher of history; but generally speaking not made much use of by the pupils.

- 942 Lee, Guy Carleton. Source Book of English History. Holt $2

An annotated bibliography with leading documents and illustrative material from contemporary writers. Covers the period from the first mention of Britain to the close of the Boer War.

- 937 Munro, Dana C. Source Book of Roman History. Heath $1

Contains extracts from original sources on religion, institutions and society, with full bibliographic references.

- 937 *Ogg, F. A. Source Book of Medieval History. Amer. Bk. Co. $1.50

Eighty-three well-chosen topics are presented. There are descriptions, references to sources, and extracts from original sources.

- 973 Old South Leaflets. Published in several volumes, 25 leaflets to the volume. Directors Old South Work. $1.50 ea.

Separate numbers may be had in paper at 5c ea.

A wide range of American history is covered.

- 902 Ploetz, Karl E. Epitome of Ancient, Medieval and Modern History. Houghton $3

"Perhaps the most valuable of all the small reference books." Adams

- 907 Robinson, James H. The New History. Macmillan $1.50
Essays on the modern conception of history.

- 907 Wayland, John W. How to Teach American History.
Macmillan $1.10

Especially valuable for grade teachers.

- 317 World Almanac. 25c

Published annually. It is indispensable for reference and should be in every secondary school library. A very large amount of information is contained in this inexpensive volume.

ATLASES

911

A short list of useful atlases is given below. Expensive ones are omitted.

- Dow, Earle Wilbur. Atlas of European History. Holt $1.50
A good popular atlas with index.
- Gardiner, S. R. Atlas of English History. Longmans $1.50
- Hart, A. B. Epoch Maps. 15 maps. Longmans 60c
- Kiepert, H. Atlas Antiquus. Stechert $1.75
- Manual of Ancient Geography. Macmillan $1.50
- Labberton, R. H. Historical Atlas. 72 maps. Silver $1.25
- MacCoun, Townsend. Historical Geography of the United States. Silver 90c
- Muir, Ramsay. School Atlas of General History. Holt $1.25
- Shepherd, W. R. Atlas of Ancient History. Holt 90c
- ——— Historical Atlas. Holt $2.50
- Atlas of Ancient Geography. Longmans $2
- Classical Atlas. Ginn $1.25
- Classical Atlas. Nystrom, bd. $1 ; cl. $1.50
- Classical Atlas. Sanborn $2

ANCIENT HISTORY

- 938 Abbott, Evelyn. History of Greece. 3 vols. Putnam
$2.25 ea.

A work occupying a middle place between the extended works of Grote, Curtius and Thirlwell on the one hand, and single volume works on the other.

- 342 Abbott, Frank Frost. History and Description of Roman Political Institutions. Ginn $1.50

Probably there is no other book of moderate size that treats this subject in so satisfactory a manner.

- 937 ——— Short History of Rome. Scott $1

"Excellent brief work based on sound scholarship." A.L.A.

- 913 ——— Society and politics in Ancient Rome. Scribner
$1.25

"Sound in scholarship, entertaining in style, and by frequent reference to modern analogous economic conditions makes the life of ancient Rome vividly clear." A.L.A.

- 913 *—— The Common People of Ancient Rome. Scribner $1.50

Studies of Roman life and literature.

Contents: How Latin Became the Language of the World, The Latin of the Common People, The Poetry of the Common People of Rome, The Origin of the Realistic Romance Among the Romans, Diocletian's Edicts and the High Cost of Living, Private Benefactions and Their Effect on the Municipal Life of the Romans, Some Reflections on Corporations and Trade-Guilds, A Roman Politician, A Friend of Caesar. A book that helps to give a clear view of the daily life of the common people of Rome.

- 901 Adams, G. B. Civilization During the Middle Ages. Scribner $2

An account of the institutions of medieval Europe, and an attempt to relate those institutions to modern civilization. An especially valuable bibliography is given.

- 901 *—— Medieval Civilization (history primer ser.). Amer. Bk. Co. 35c

A small, inexpensive book that gives a brief survey of the middle ages. Contents: The Holy Roman Empire, The Roman Church and Christianity, The Germans, Charlemagne, Attempts at National Organization, The Feudal System, The Empire and the Church, The Crusades, The Revival of Learning, The Growth of Commerce and Its Results, The Rise of the Nations, The Church and the Reformation.

- 930 Anderson, Robert E. Story of Extinct Civilizations of the East. Appleton 50c

The story of Chaldea, Babylonia, Egypt, Phoenicia, Judea, Arabia, and Persia told very briefly and in an interesting manner.

- 940 *Archer & Kingsford. The Crusades. Putnam $1.50

Probably the best book on this subject for pupils' use. Very well written.

- 940 Barry, W. F. The Papacy and Modern Times. Herder 50c

A political sketch interesting to those desirous of information upon this topic.

- 940 ——— Papal Monarchy from St Gregory the Great to Boniface VIII. Putnam $1.50

Covers the period from 590 to 1303.

"Shows importance of papacy as central, supreme acknowledged guardian of faith, learning, law, and civilization, in bridging gap between ancient and modern civilization." N. Y.

- 282 Baudrillart, Alfred. The Catholic Church, the Renaissance and Protestantism. Benziger $2

"Extremely interesting and instructive volume from a fair-minded and erudite Ultramontane." Athenaeum

- 913 Becker, W. A. Gallus. Longmans $1.25

Scenes in Roman life at the time of Augustus, in the form of a story with notes emphasizing the facts of Roman life. Contents: The Roman Family, The Roman House, Studies and Letters, The Journey, The Villa, Lycoris, Baths and Gymnastics, Dress, The Banquet, The Drinkers, The Catastrophe, The Grave.

- 937 *Beesly, A. H. The Gracchi, Marius and Sulla. Longmans $1

"The social difficulties that led to the attempts of the Gracchi at reform are admirably described. The meaning of the civil wars, and final triumph of Sulla are shown in a strong light. The most striking characteristic of the book is the spirited style in which it is written." Adams

Contents: Antecedents of the Revolution, Tiberius Gracchus, Caius Gracchus, Jugurthine War, Cimbri and Teutones, Roman Army, Saturnius and Drusus, Social War, Sulpicius, Marius and Finna, First Mithridatic War, Sulla in Greece and Asia, Sulla in Italy, Personal Rule and Death of Sulla, Sulla's Reactionary Measures.

940 Bemont & Monod. Medieval Europe. Holt $1.60

Treats of the period from 395 to 1270. Simply told and deals fully with some subjects not usually taken up in detail. The medieval church is an example of this. Each chapter is preceded by "sources" and "literature."

915 Benjamin, S. G. W. Persia and the Persians. Putnam $1.50

A brief narrative of the most noteworthy events in Persian history.

939 ——— Troy: its Legends, History and Literature. Scribner $1

The story of Troy told as accurately, probably, as circumstances would permit; doubtless as reliable as any other account. The story is very pleasantly told.

913 Blümmer, Hugo. The Home Life of the Ancient Greeks. Funk & Wagnalls $2

A detailed description of social conditions. Illustrations add to the value of the work. Contents: Costume, Birth and Infancy, Daily Life, Meals and Social Entertainments, Sickness and Physicians, Death and Burial, Gymnastics, Music and Dancing, Religious Worship, Public Festivals, The Theater, War and Seafaring, Agriculture, Trade and Handicraft, Slavery.

913 Boissier, Gaston. Rome and Pompeii. Putnam $2.50

Deals with archaeology in a manner that is attractive to those who know but little of the subject. Contents: The Forum, The Palatine, The Catacombs, Hadrian's Villa, Ostia, Pompeii.

943 Bryce, James. The Holy Roman Empire. Macmillan $1.50

Shows the relations that existed between Rome and Germany during the middle ages.

938 *Bryce, J. B. History of Greece to the Death of Alexander the Great. Macmillan $1.50

"It would be hard to find a more useful book for the student who has grasped the outlines of that subject and wishes to start on an inquiry into the sources from which the received narrative has been derived." Athenaeum

937 ——— The Roman Empire (Students' series). Amer. Bk. Co. $1.50

Covers the period from 27 B.C. to 180 A.D.

"It is a complete and admirable piece of work." Athenaeum

937 Capes, W. W. Roman Empire of the Second Century. Longmans $1

"All the chapters are excellent, but especially worthy of note are those on the attitude of the empire toward the early Christians." Adams

937 ——— Roman History; The Early Empire. Longmans $1

Covers the period from 44 B.C. to 96 A.D.

"The author's style is at once spirited and graceful. No one can read the last two chapters of the volume without being impressed with the acumen and judicial impartiality of his methods of treatment." Adams

- 938 Church, A. J. Pictures from Greek Life and Story. Putnam $1.25

Treats of Solon, Themistocles, Pericles, Alcibiades, Thermopylae, Salamis, Marathon, Great Plague of Athens, Trial and Death of Socrates, etc.

- 937 ——— Pictures from Roman Life and Story. Appleton $1.50

Sketches of some of the great characters in Roman history as well as great episodes.

- 940 Church, R. W. The Beginning of the Middle Ages. Longmans $1

"Though a small book it embodies many of the fruits of recent scholarship, and is one of the best brief accounts of events from the fall of Rome to the breaking up of the Carolingian empire." Adams

- 938 Cox, Sir George W. The Athenian Empire. Longmans $1

Covers the period from rebuilding the walls of Athens after the Persian invasion to the surrender of the city at the end of the Peloponnesian War. The story is told in a fairly popular style.

- 938 ——— The Crusades. Scribner $1

One of the best brief histories of the crusades. Useful as a high school reference book, but would not be satisfactory to one who wished to make a thorough study of the subject.

- 938 ——— General History of Greece. Amer. Bk. Co. 60c

Covers the time from the earliest period to the death of Alexander the Great. Attractively written, well supplied with maps and illustrations. One of the best of the smaller histories of Greece. Treats of the formation of Hellas, the struggle with Persia, the growth of the Athenian Empire, the struggle between Athens and Sparta, rise of the Macedonian power, and the later fortunes of the Grecian people.

- 938 *——— The Greeks and the Persians. Scribner $1

Gives the military and political institutions of the Persians and of several of the Greek states. Excellent maps. Contents: Origin and Growth of the Greek Civilization, Settlements and Government of the Greeks, The Persian Empire under Cyrus, Cambyses and Darius, Athens in the Time of Solon, The Ionic Revolt, Invasion and Flight of Xerxes, Battle of Platea, The Formation of the Athenian Confederacy, and other matters.

- 937 Creighton, M. History of Rome (History primer series). Amer. Bk. Co. 35c

An inexpensive but excellent little book; covers the period to 1453.

- 938 Curteis, Arthur M. Rise of the Macedonian Empire. Scribner $1

"Lucid but concise summary of one of the most momentous military expeditions which the world has ever known." Saturday Review

Perhaps the best short history of Alexander.

- 922 Duchesne, Mgr. L. The Beginnings of the Temporal Sovereignty of the Popes. Herder $2

Treats of a very interesting portion of history.

- 940 Duruy, Victor. History of the Middle Ages. Holt $1.50

"Probably the best single volume on general history and character of the middle ages." Adams

Gives a clear idea of life during the middle ages. Contents: Germanic Invasion, Arab Invasion, Carolingian Empire, Fall of Carolingian Empire,

New Barbarian Invasions, Feudalism, Struggle between the Papacy and the Empire, Rivalry between France and England, Rivalry between Italy, Germany and other European States, Civilization in the Last Centuries of the Middle Ages.

938 Felton, C. C. Ancient and Modern Greece. 2 vols. Houghton $5

A series of lectures delivered before the Lowell Institute. A popular though thoroughly scholarly presentation. An attempt to show the activities of Greek life and culture.

342 *Fowler, W. W. City-state of the Greeks and Romans. Macmillan $1

Shows to what extent modern civilization has adopted ancient political ideas. L. & I.

909 Freeman, Edward A. A General Sketch of History. Holt $1.10

Brings the history down to 1871. Attractively written.

342 Fustel de Coulanges, N. D. The Ancient City. Lothrop $2

A study of the religion, laws and institutions of Greece and Rome.

938 Fling, F. M. Source Book on Grecian History. Heath $1

Helpful for teachers.

938 Fyffe, Charles A. History of Greece (History primer series). Amer. Bk. Co. 35c

Brought down to 146 B.C. A small, inexpensive book, but interesting and valuable.

733 Gardner, E. A. Handbook of Greek Sculpture. Macmillan $2.50

"Best account in English." Nation

937 Gibbon, Edward. History of the Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire. 7 vols. Macmillan $7

"Probably still to be esteemed as the greatest historical work ever written; the period embraced extends from the middle of the second century of our era to the fall of Constantinople, in 1453. . . . Two objections have been urged with reason against this work: its style has an unbending stateliness, and Gibbon has a strong bias against Christianity." Adams

This is not a work that should be purchased for a school library unless the district is able to maintain a very large library.

937 Gilman, Arthur. Story of Rome. Putnam $1.50

Treats of Rome from the earliest days to the end of the republic. It is written in an attractive style and is likely to be enjoyed by young people. The author says "It is hoped to enter in some degree into the real life of the Roman people, to catch the true spirit of their actions, and to indicate the current of the national life."

953 ——— Story of the Saracens. Putnam $1.50

Brings the history of the Saracens down to the fall of Bagdad.

"He has told his story brightly and sympathetically. The pity is that he has done what every one did before—he has dwelt at unnecessary length upon the life of the prophet Mohammed, and left himself no space for those remarkable characters, revolutions, and civilizations which marked the later course of the history of Islam." Athenaeum

- 940 Gray, G. Z. The Children's Crusade. Houghton $1.50

An account of the wonderful crusade of 50,000 little children who set out for Jerusalem in 1212. It is a well-written story of this tragic event.

- 398 Guerber, H. A. Legends of the Middle Ages. Amer. Bk. Co. $1.50

Told in a simple narrative form. Contents: Beowulf, Gudrun, Reynard the Fox, The Nibelungenlied, Langobardian, Cycle of Myths, The Amelings, Dietrich von Bern, Charlemagne and his Paladins, The Sons of Aymon, Huon of Bourdeaux, Titivel and the Holy Grail, Merlin, The Round Table, Tristan and Iseult, The Story of Frithiof, Ragnar Lodbrok, The Cid, General survey of Romance Literature.

- 292 ——— Myths of Greece and Rome. Amer. Bk. Co. $1.50

Attractively written, with special reference to literature and art.

- 937 *——— Story of the Romans. Amer. Bk. Co. 60c

Really written for the grades but it will also be found useful in the high school library. More than a hundred topics are presented and there are some good illustrations.

- 913 *Guhl & Koner. Life of the Greeks and Romans. Scribner $3

Very valuable for reference for the older pupils. Describes industries, fine arts, religion, laws and customs.

"Anyone in the least desirous of becoming acquainted with the ways of antique life will find that this work is as interesting as it is informing. The illustrations are admirable, and the book is made easy of use by a good index." Adams

- 913 *Gulick, C. B. Life of the Ancient Greeks. Appleton $1.40

Refers more particularly to Athens; describes country and city, dwellings and furniture, food and clothing, religion, old age, and burial ceremonies, children and school training, social life, various occupations, and other matters of daily life.

- 914 Hare, A. J. C. Walks in Rome. 2 vols. Macmillan $3

Essentially a guide book but useful for reference.

- 923 *Herbermann, C. G. Business Life in Ancient Rome. Amer. Bk. Co. 30c

An interesting little primer that gives much information in regard to how business was carried on in ancient Rome, and the prices paid for common articles.

- 296 Hosmer, J. K. The Jews: Ancient, Medieval and Modern. Putnam $1.50

The Jews have been so connected with so much of history that an account of them is interesting and valuable.

- 937 *Ihne, William. Early Rome. Longmans $1

This book is by one of the most eminent of German historians but is written for popular use. Covers the period from the founding of the city to its destruction by the Gauls.

- 880 Jebb, R. C. Greek Literature (Literature primer series). Amer. Bk. Co. 35c

A brief outline of writers and writings. Nothing is better for reference purposes.

Well arranged. A convenient handbook for reference.

940 Kingsley, Charles. The Roman and the Teuton. Macmillan
$1.25

Twelve vivid, impressionistic lectures of that wild time when Teutonic barbarians overran the Roman empire and the modern nations of Europe began. Conveys with clearness the atmosphere of an important and little known period.

937 Jones, Henry S. The Roman Empire. Putnam $1.50

From 27 B.C. to 476 A. D.

"The ordinary reader will not find a narrative more interesting, or to speak broadly, more trustworthy." English Historical Review

913 Lanciani, R. A. Ancient Rome in the Light of Recent Discoveries. Houghton $5.50

Valuable as a work of reference; absolutely trustworthy. It is a vivid picture of life in ancient Rome.

913 ——— Pagan and Christian Rome. Houghton $5.50

The purpose of this book is to trace the transformation of Rome from a pagan to a Christian city.

913 Lang, Andrew. Tales of Troy and Greece. Longmans
$1.50

Attractively written.

913 ——— The Roman Forum. Stechert $1.50

An account of the forum with a brief description of each of the ruins and restorations. It is really a photographic history. The illustrations are large and clear.

940 Lodge, Richard. Close of the Middle Ages. Macmillan
$1.60

Covers the period from 1272 to 1494. This is one of the most interesting periods in all history and the story is well told. It deals with the Hundred Years War between France and England, the House of Burgundy, the Councils of Constance and Basel, the Hussite movement, the republics of Venice and Florence, the revival of arts and letters, the Hanseatic League, the conquest of the Eastern Empire by the Turks, and other matters.

913 Mahaffy, J. P. Old Greek Life (History primer series).
Amer. Bk. Co. 35c

Contents: Men and Property, The Greek at Home, Public Life, Greek Religion, Greek Law, General Features of Greek Life.

913 ——— What the Greeks Have Done for Modern Civilization. Putnam $2.50

A plea for the superiority of the Greeks in art, poetry, philosophy, science and sociology, and urging increased attention to the study of Greek in modern education.

940 Mahan, A. T. Influence of Sea Power Upon History.
Little $4

"We have, indeed, seldom read a more instructive volume—one so perfectly combining breadth of view, real knowledge of history, and technical science in all that relates to the naval profession. . . . What maritime ascendancy really means, and how it bears on the fortunes of nations, is explained with admirable insight and skill; and the subject is detached from what is foreign to it, and is placed before us in its true aspect. The account, too, of what is incidental to it—naval operations and the encounters of fleets—is careful and elaborate, and thoroughly worked out.” Academy

913 Maspero, G. Life in Ancient Egypt and Assyria. Appleton $1.50

A very interesting book. It gives various phases of life in Egypt in the fourteenth century B.C. and in Assyria in the seventh century B.C.

937 Merivale, Charles. Roman Triumvirates. Scribner $1

A study of this important period by the man who was better fitted for it than any other person.

904 Newman, J. H. Historical Sketches. 3 vols. Herder $3.75

Treats of the Turks, in their relation to Europe, primitive Christianity, the church of the fathers, Benedictine schools, rise and progress of universities, Northmen and Normans in England and Ireland, medieval Oxford, convocation of Canterbury and similar topics.

913 Preston & Dodge. Private Life of the Romans. Sanborn $1.05

Contents: The Family, The House and Everyday Life, Children, Slaves, Guests, Clients, Freedman, Food and Clothing, Agriculture, Travel, Transportation, Amusements, Tables of Weights and Measures, etc.

955 Ragozin, Z. A. Story of Chaldea. Putnam $1.50

From the earliest times to the rise of Assyria.

“An excellent little volume.” Adams

955 *——— Story of Assyria. Putnam $1.50

A very interesting account continuing the history in the previous volume to the fall of Nineveh.

955 *——— Story of Media, Babylon and Persia. Putnam $1.50

A continuation of the history in the previous volume.

938 Sankey, Charles. The Spartan and Theban Supremacies. Scribner $1

Gives a good idea of the characters of Socrates, Xenophon, Agesilaus, and Epaminondas. Contents: Spartan Supremacy, Athens Under the Thirty, Restoration of Athenian Democracy, Socrates, Ten Thousand, Sparta, Her Allies and Subjects, Operations in Asia Minor, Corinthian War, Peace of Antalkidas, Suppression of Olynthos, and The Liberation of Thebes, Rise of Thebes, Theban Supremacy.

913 Sayce, A. H. Babylonians and Assyrians. Scribner $1.25

“Gives a most vivid view of all the phases, public and private, of Babylonian and Assyrian life.” Nation

913 *Shumway, Edgar S. A Day in Ancient Rome. Heath 75c

Descriptions of ancient buildings and monuments.

937 Smith, R. B. Rome and Carthage. Longmans $1

An abridgment of the author’s larger work, “Carthage and the Carthaginians.” This abridgment deals almost entirely with the Punic wars.

940 Tout, T. F. The Empire and the Papacy. Macmillan $1.60

Covers the period from 918 to 1273 A. D.

“Among many good qualities are its first-hand information and the marks it bears of careful prevision.” Nation

913 Tucker, Thomas G. Life in Ancient Athens. Macmillan
$1.25

A study of the daily public and social life of a classical Athenian.

913 ——— Life in the Roman World of Nero and St Paul.
Macmillan $2.50

An interesting description of Roman life in the first century. One chapter is devoted to Nero, and there are references to St Paul.

913 Wilkins, Augustus S. Roman Antiquities (History primer series). Amer. Bk. Co. 35c

A very interesting little book. Contents: The Roman Character, The Roman Dwellings, The Roman's Daily Life, The Roman Family, The Roman's Public Life, The Roman's Religion.

880 Wright, J. H. Masterpieces of Greek Literature. Houghton
$1.50

"Selections well made; notes clearly written and sufficient for the general reader, to whom it is heartily commended." Nation

A biographical sketch of the following authors is given, together with well-made selections from their works: Homer, Tyrtaeus, Archilochus, Callistratus, Alcaeus, Sappho, Anacreon, Pindar, Aeschylus, Sophocles, Euripides, Aristophanes, Herodotus, Thucydides, Xenophon, Plato, Theocritus, and Lucian.

BIOGRAPHY

920

Individual biography

Alexander. Wheeler, B. I. Alexander the Great (Heroes of Nations). Putnam $1.50

The most satisfactory life of Alexander for school use.

Augustus. *Firth, John B. Augustus Caesar (Heroes of Nations).
Putnam $1.50

Augustus Caesar and the organization of the empire of Rome.

Caesar. Fowler, W. W. Julius Caesar (Heroes of Nations).
Putnam $1.50

An estimate of Caesar's character and influence as determined by recent investigations. While neither the founder nor the organizer of the Roman Empire, his life marked a great change in European history.

Caesar. *Froude, J. A. Caesar: a Sketch. Scribner $1.50

An excellent work. The author makes a strong plea in favor of Caesar, and shows the weakness of the character of Cicero.

Charlemagne. Eginhard. Life of Charlemagne. Amer. Bk.
Co. 30c

An excellent and inexpensive work. Eginhard was Charlemagne's private secretary as well as councilor and minister of public works.

Cicero. *Davidson, J. L. S. Cicero and the Fall of the Roman Republic (Heroes of Nations). Putnam $1.50

"Sets forth from Cicero's writings a terse account of the disastrous but not inglorious failure of the last free state of the ancient world." Publishers' Weekly

Hannibal. Morris, W. O. Hannibal (Heroes of Nations).
Putnam $1.50

An interesting account of one of the greatest military geniuses the world has known.

Julian. Gardner, Alice. Julian; Emperor of Rome (Heroes of Nations). Putnam $1.50

An account of Julian, emperor and philosopher, and the last struggle of paganism against Christianity.

Pericles. Abbott, E. Pericles and the Golden Age of Athens (Heroes of Nations). Putnam $1.50

"Written out of full knowledge and systematically arranged." Atlantic Monthly

Philip II. Hogarth, D. G. Philip and Alexander of Macedon.
Scribner $2.50

Treats of an intensely interesting period, and of one of the greatest conquerors of the world.

Collective biography

Dodge, T. A. Great Captains. Houghton $2

A very attractive book. The great captains discussed are Alexander, Hamilton, Hannibal, Caesar, Gustavus Adolphus, Frederick, and Napoleon.

*Oman, Charles. Seven Roman Statesmen of the Later Republic.
Longmans $1.60

The individuals selected are the Gracchi, Sulla, Crassus, Cato, Pompey, and Caesar.

Plutarch. Lives. Ginn 45c

Clough's translation abridged and annotated for schools by Edwin Ginn. Contents: Lives of Plutarch, Themistocles, Pericles, Alexander, Coriolanus, Fabius, Sertorius, and Caesar.

——— Lives. 5 vols. Little $7.50

Dryden's translation corrected and revised by Clough. Contains fifty brief biographies. Desirable for schools that wish a more complete work than the preceding.

HISTORICAL POEMS

It is believed that many pupils will be glad to read some historical poems in connection with their study of history. While mythology is not history, it is so closely related to early Greek and Roman history that some mythological poems may very properly be listed here. The poems that have a special literary value will be listed again in their proper place as literature.

Browning, Elizabeth Barrett. A Musical Instrument

This will prove interesting to those who care about mythology. The poem will be found in the complete works of Mrs Browning.

——— Hector and Andromache

Translated from the Iliad. A comparatively short poem giving the story of the parting of Hector and Andromache. Found in the complete works of Mrs Browning. Delightfully expressed.

———— The Dead Pan

A poem found in the complete works of Mrs Browning. It is charmingly written and will be especially enjoyed by those who are interested in Greek mythology.

Bryant, William Cullen. Translation of Homer's Odyssey

Found in Bryant's complete works, also separately. By many thought to be the best translation of the Odyssey.

*Butcher & Lang. Translation of Homer's Odyssey

By many preferred to Bryant's translation.

Ingelow, Jean. Demeter and Persephone

Found in the complete works of the author. A poem of sixteen stanzas written in a most pleasing style and sure to attract anyone who loves poetry.

Keats, John. On First Looking into Chapman's Homer

A poem of only sixteen lines which will not be appreciated by a majority of the pupils, but a choice minority will be delighted with it. Found in the complete works of the author.

Lang, Andrew. Translation of Homer's Iliad

Lowell, James Russell. The Shepherd of King Admetus

Found in the complete works of the author. An old mythological story told in delightfully smooth verse.

*Macaulay, Thomas B. Horatius at the Bridge. V. P. E.

*———— The Battle of Lake Regillus. V. P. E.

*———— The Prophecy of Capys. V. P. E.

These three poems treat of Roman history and are found in "The Lays of Ancient Rome." The first named poem is a mixture of myth and history; the second is of a somewhat later date and perhaps is not so largely mythical; the third recites much of early Roman history. All three are well worth reading, and will be read with pleasure.

Mitford, John. The Roman Legions.

A short poem treating of Roman history; found on page 67 of Stedman's Victorian Anthology.

Shakspeare, William. Antony and Cleopatra. V. P. E.

The characters of Antony and Cleopatra are clearly presented. The play shows the brilliancy and imagination of Shakspeare to good advantage.

———— Coriolanus. V. P. E.

Based upon Plutarch's life of Coriolanus, but largely modified, and some parts wholly a new creation. The play shows clearly the spirit of the Roman patricians.

———— Julius Caesar. V. P. E.

Translations of Plutarch's Lives of Caesar, Brutus, and Antony are drawn upon freely, but the characters of Casca and Lepidus are almost new creations; Cassius was made more of and Brutus idealized. The boy Lucius is an invention; the orations of Brutus and of Antony are elaborated from very slight foundations of fact.

———— Troilus and Cresida. V. P. E.

The story is largely taken from Chaucer, Caxton, and Chapman's Homer, but Ajax seems to be a pure creation of Shakspeare.

Many of the poems named can be found in various collections of poems, and some of them in various school readers.

HISTORICAL FICTION

No attempt to acquire a knowledge of history through reading historical fiction is likely to result satisfactorily. It is not the province of historical fiction to furnish mere facts. When history is known, the reading of good historical fiction serves to vivify it and make it seem more real — a thing that sober history often fails to do. Again, the reading of historical fiction often results in an increased interest in history.

Arnold, E. L. L. The Wonderful Adventures of Phra the Phoenician. Dutton 50c

A romance on the "Wandering Jew" motive. Follows English history from prehistoric times to the age of Elizabeth. The descriptions of battles, councils etc. are good.

Church, A. J. The Fall of Athens. Jacobs & Co. 50c

The time of the Peloponnesian War. Introduces Alcibiades.

——— The Lords of the World. Scribner $1.50

Treats of the fall of Carthage and Corinth. Time, 146 B.C.

——— Two Thousand Years ago. Dodd $1.25

Treats of Spartacus and Mithridates.

Crawford, F. Marion. Zoroaster. Macmillan $1.50

Time, 550 B.C. A Persian romance of the time of Darius and the prophet Daniel.

Davis, W. S. A Friend of Caesar. Macmillan $1.50

A story of the fall of the Roman Republic. Introduces Pompey and Caesar.

——— Belshazzar. Doubleday $1.50

A tale of the fall of Babylon.

Ebers, Georg M. An Egyptian Princess. Crowell 60

Time, sixth century B.C. Egypt and Persia under Cambyzes. Gives the manners and customs of the Greeks, Persians and Egyptians at that time.

——— Uarda. Crowell 60c

Time, fourteenth century B.C. Treats of Thebes and Syria under Rameses II. It is the story of a conspiracy to usurp the throne of Rameses and gives an account of the religious, public, and private life of the Egyptians.

Farrar, Frederick W. Darkness and Dawn. Longmans $2

The struggle between Paganism and Christianity during the reign of Nero.

*Lytton, Lord. Harold: the Last of the Saxon Kings. Little $1

Time, 1066 A.D. Though in story form it is historically accurate. Gives a good description of the Battle of Hastings, the overthrow of Harold, and the English life of the times.

——— Last Days of Pompeii. Little $1

"Reconstruction of the luxurious Roman society of the first century of the Christian era, founded on a careful study of Latin literature and Pompeian antiquities, and on observation of modern manners and character."
Baker

Describes the eruption of Vesuvius and the destruction of Pompeii and Herculaneum. Time, 79 A.D.

Melville, G. J. Whyte. The Gladiators. Longmans $1.25

Time, 70 A.D. Place, Rome and the Holy Land. Gives an account of the fall of Jerusalem and the destruction of the Temple.

———— Sarchedon. Longmans $1.25

A story of ancient Babylon and the Assyrians. The priests of Baal play a conspicuous part in the story.

*Scott, Sir Walter. Ivanhoe. Macmillan $1.25

Not Scott's greatest novel but his most popular one. A story of medieval England at a time when the Normans and Saxons had hardly begun to unite. Introduces some of the most romantic names of the Middle Ages, including Richard the Lion-Hearted, Robin Hood, Friar Tuck, Allan-a-Dale, Isaac of York, and Prince John.

*———— The Talisman. Macmillan $1.25

A story of the Third Crusade in which Saladin and Richard the Lion-Hearted are prominent characters.

Snedeker, Caroline D. The Spartan. Doubleday $1.20

First published under the title "The Coward of Thermopylae." It is a story of Spartan life with a vivid account of the fight at Thermopylae.

Wallace, Lew. Ben-Hur: A Tale of the Christ. Harper $1.50

"A long and gorgeously colored romance of oriental life in the first century, abounding in florid scenes of pageantry." Baker

MODERN HISTORY

In order to conform to the classification of work outlined in the Syllabus for Secondary Schools, the history of Great Britain and Ireland is given in a section by itself.

In order properly to prepare the way for what is to follow, a list of general works on the history of Europe precedes the list on Great Britain and Ireland proper.

Europe

940 Adams, G. B. European History: An Outline of Its Development. Macmillan $1.40

Has good bibliographies and is valuable for reference but is not likely to be read by high school pupils.

940 Fyffe, C. A. History of Modern Europe. Holt $2.75

There is also a three-volume edition that sells at $7.50. The work covers the period from 1792 to 1878. It is probably the best history of the period covered, but it will be used as a reference book rather than for general reading.

940 Johnson, Arthur H. The Normans in Europe. Longmans $1

Covers the period from the Scandinavian exodus in the ninth century to 1154. The greater part of the volume is devoted to the history of the conquest of England, but the Norman invasions of France, Italy, Spain, Sicily, and Russia are also described.

940 Robinson, J. H. Introduction to the History of Western Europe. Ginn $1.60

"Unqualifiedly recommended to beginners." Nation

Great Britain and Ireland

- 914 Ashton, John. Social Life in the Reign of Queen Anne.
Scribner $1.25

The volume is fully illustrated. The pictures and numerous clippings from newspapers of the time, and selections from books and essays, give a clear idea of the life of the people at this period.

- 342 Bagehot, Walter. English Constitution and Other Political Essays. Appleton $2

Rather heavy reading for high school pupils but will enable the teacher to get a clearer idea of the difference between the nominal and the actual constitution, and of the real relations of the Crown, cabinet, House of Lords and House of Commons.

- 821 Bates & Coman. English History Told by English Poets.
Macmillan 60c

Valuable in itself and also contains nearly all the poems listed in connection with English history, as given in this list.

- 940 Bateson, Mary. Medieval England. Putnam $1.50

"Valuable as, perhaps, the first serious effort to write a popular account of Norman-English society. Aims to present a full view of the national life."
Dial

- 330 Cheney, E. P. Industrial and Social History of England.
Macmillan $1.40

Treats of a very important phase of English history.

- 942 Church, A. J. Story of Early Britain. Putnam $1.50

Covers the period from the earliest known history to the time of the Norman conquest. There are many illustrations and the style is attractive to young people.

- 923 Cobbett, William. History of the Protestant Reformation
in England and Ireland. Herder 75c

This book presents the subject from one point of view. Others in this list will present it from another. It should always be remembered that there is not, and in the nature of things can not be, an absolutely unbiased history. As soon as a writer begins to think seriously upon any topic, he adopts certain theories that must color all his views to some extent. Therefore it is well to read both sides of controverted subjects, or not read on those subjects at all.

- 942 Colby, Charles W. Selections from Sources of English History. Longmans $1.50

The selections are within the understanding of pupils of high school age. The teacher will find the book helpful.

- 942 Corbett, J. S. Drake and the Tudor Navy. 2 vols. Longmans $5

A very complete work but should not be bought except by schools able to own large libraries.

- 942 Creighton, L. Stories from English History. Longmans $1.25

Fifty-four topics are treated covering the period from the conversion of the English to Christianity to the siege of Lucknow. It is an interesting and helpful volume and will be read with pleasure by young people.

- 942 *Creighton, M. The Age of Elizabeth. Scribner $1

A short presentation of the chief events of English history during the reign of Queen Elizabeth.

- 942 Dale, Lucy. Landmarks of British History. Longmans 90c

A clear idea of early British history, told in an interesting manner. Many helpful illustrations and maps.

- 968 Doyle, Sir A. C. The Great Boer War. Nelson (London)
25c

A history written with all the vividness that might be expected of the author. Doctor Doyle served during a part of the Boer War and obtained his facts first-hand.

- 942 Edwards, O. M. Wales. Putnam $1.50

A popular history of Wales written in a very pleasing style.

- 942 *Freeman, Edward A. A Short History of the Norman Conquest. Clarendon 60c

A clear presentation of an important period.

- 942 *—— Old English History. Macmillan $1.50

"From the landing of Caesar to the coronation of William the Conqueror. Written for the historian's own children. Delightful for children of a larger growth. Simple, clear and accurate." L. & I.

- 942 *Froude, James A. English Seamen in the Sixteenth Century. Scribner $1.50

Treats of Hawkins and the African slave trade, Philip the Second, Drake's voyage around the world, the great expedition to the West Indies, the Armada and other matters. Brilliantly written.

- 942 *Gairdner, James. Houses of Lancaster and York. Scribner $1

"Compact history of England during the turbulent century between the death of Edward III and the accession of Henry VII." Adams

- 942 *Gardiner, S. R. First Two Stuarts and the Puritan Revolution. Longmans $1

Partial contents: Puritans and the House of Commons, Spanish Alliance, Ascendency of Buckingham, Personal Government of Charles I, Resistance in Scotland and England, Downfall of Royalty, Commonwealth, Oliver's Protectorate, End of the Revolution.

- 942 *—— Student's History of England. Longmans $3

"An accurate, succinct, and entertaining book fit for schools as well as for the general reader. The illustrations are a notable feature." Critic

- 943 *—— The Thirty Years War. Longmans $1

Covers the period from 1618 to 1648. Contents: Causes of the Thirty Years War, Bohemian Revolution, Imperialist Victories in Bohemia and the Palatinate, Mansfield and Christian in North Germany, Intervention of the King of Denmark, Staatsund and Rochelle, Edict of Restitution, Victories of Gustavus Adolphus, Death of Wallenstein and the Treaty of Prague, Preponderance of France, End of the War.

- 942 Green, J. R. Short History of the English People. Amer. Bk. Co. $1.20

"This book has extraordinary merits. It is rather a commentary on the history of England than a history itself. The qualities which have given to the work its great popularity are the brilliancy of its style, the breadth of its generalizations, the vividness with which it portrays the general drift of events, the clearness with which it shows the relations of cause and effect, the prominence which it gives to the literacy and social progress of the people, and the skill with which the author has made his selections and exclusions." Adams

- 942 *Guerber, H. A. The Story of the English. Amer. Bk. Co.
65c

An elementary book that may be read with pleasure and profit by those who would find a more advanced work tiresome.

- 942 Higginson & Channing. English History for Americans.
Longmans $1.20

English history from the earliest times to 1880. Emphasis is placed upon the events that have influenced most American history and institutions.

- 942 Hull, Eleanor. The Northmen in Britain. Crowell $1.50

A clear presentation of the subject. The illustrations are good.

- 942 *Jessopp, Augustus. The Coming of the Friars. Putnam
$1.25

A volume of essays, the contents in part being The Coming of the Friars, Village Life in Norfolk 600 Years Ago, Daily Life in a Medieval Monastery.

- 941 Joyce, G. H. Concise History of Ireland. Longmans $1.25

Joyce is a voluminous writer on Irish history, and is thoroughly familiar with his subject.

- 942 Jewett, S. O. Story of the Normans. Putnam $1.50

Mainly given to the story of the conquest of England by the Normans, but gives some account of their conquest of Southern Italy and Sicily.

- 941 Johnston & Spencer. Ireland's Story. Houghton $1.40

A popular history of Ireland from earliest times to 1903.

- 941 Lang, Andrew. A Short History of Scotland. Dodd $2

A well-written and interesting history of moderate length.

- 941 *Lawless, Emily. Story of Ireland. Putnam $1.50

Covers the period from legendary times to 1885. Popular in style and non-partisan in the presentation of facts.

- 942 *McCarthy, Justin. A Short History of Our Own Times.
Harper $1.50

Covers the period from 1837 to 1903. It gives admirable accounts of many of the men who have directed the political affairs of England during the last half century, and is written in a style that holds the attention of the reader.

- 942 ——— Epoch of Reform. Scribner $1

Covers the period from 1830 to 1850, one of the most important in English history. Among the notable English statesmen of that period were Lord Grey, Lord John Russell, O'Connell, Sir Robert Peel, Lord Palmerston, and Mr Cobden.

- 941 ——— Outline of Irish History from the Earliest Times.
Marshall 50c

Written from the Irish point of view but accurate and temperate in tone.

- 942 Macaulay, T. B. History of England. V. P. E.

Probably no other historian has shown such familiarity with the facts of history, and certainly no other has written in such a fascinating style.

- 942 *Oman, C. W. C. England in the 19th Century. Longmans
$1.25

A brief discussion of the struggle with Napoleon, the reform bill, the Crimean War, home rule, imperialism, and colonial matters. Lord Palmerston, Disraeli and Gladstone are made prominent figures.

- 940 Ross, Estelle. The Birth of England. Crowell $1.25

Covers the period from 449 to 1066. Fully illustrated; showing the daily life of the people, their dress, occupations, implements etc. Treats of the coming of the Saxons, home life, the Danes, myths of the Northmen, the Vikings, the early church, King Alfred, Earl Godwin, Harold, the Battle of Senlac, and similar topics.

- 942 Stubbs, William. Early Plantagenets. Longmans $1

"In no other volume are the important characteristics of the time when the foundations of legislative government were laid so well pointed out."
Adams

- 914 *Synge, M. B. Social Life in England. Barnes $1.50

A short history giving a picture of the life and customs of the English from the earliest times, dealing with their religion, homes, dress, roads, punishment, position of women and similar subjects.

- 941 *Towle, George M. Young People's History of Ireland.
Lothrop $1

A very interesting history of Ireland told in an attractive manner, and excellent for library reading. Tells of Irish legends, early Irish kings, invasion of the Danes and Normans, English settlements in Ireland, condition of the Irish people, Irish parliament, orange and the green, penal laws, Irish patriots, famine, revolts, home rule, etc.

"Without doubt the best, if not the only, single volume history of the seventeenth century." American Historical Review

- 942 *Tuell & Hatch. Readings in English History. Ginn $1.40

A most excellent volume. Among the topics discussed are The Early Germans, The Saxons, The Conversion of the English, Alfred the Great, Coronation of William, The Norman Results of the Norman Conquest, The Great Charter, The Significance of the Magna Charta, Village Life Six Hundred Years Ago, Daily Life in a Medieval Monastery, The Towns, Industrial Villages and Fairs, Medieval Towns and Guilds, Life at Oxford University in the Middle Ages, The Character of Elizabeth, The Elizabethan Sea Kings and the Spanish Armada, The Petition of Right, John Hampden, Oliver Cromwell, The Fire in London, The Causes of the American Revolution, The Great Reform Bill, Richard Cobden, Home Rule for Ireland, and many others of like character. Each topic is from the pen of one who speaks as an authority.

- 942 Warren, Henry P. Stories from English History. Heath
72c

A book well adapted to arouse an interest in history. The subjects are well chosen, and the stories are told in excellent form. A pupil who reads this book with care will get a good general idea of the more important parts of English history, and will be likely to desire to read more — a matter of supreme importance.

- 948 Young, Captain Charles. Harald, First of the Vikings.
Crowell $1.50

Harald, known as the Fair-haired, united the people of Scandinavia into one strong maritime nation that exerted a powerful influence in northern Europe.

BIOGRAPHY

920

Individual biography

Alfred. Asser, John. Life of Alfred, ed. by A. S. Cook. Ginn 50c

Alfred. Besant, Sir Walter. Story of King Alfred. Appleton 35c

Probably the best brief biography of Alfred the Great. Gives a good account of the condition of England in the ninth century.

Alfred. Hughes, Thomas. Alfred the Great. Houghton $1

Valuable for historical reference and a good book for library reading.

Bruce. Mackie, R. L. The Story of Robert Bruce. Crowell $1.50

The story of one of the most interesting characters in Scottish history.

Burke. Morley, John. Edmund Burke. Harper 75c

A knowledge of the life of Burke is essential to the understanding of certain phases of English history. This work is well written and trustworthy.

Chatham, Earl of. Macaulay, Thomas B. Earl of Chatham. Merrill 25c

One of the greatest English statesmen. Known as the Great Commoner.

Chaucer. Jenks, Tudor. In the Days of Chaucer. Barnes $1

This work is both biographical and historical. The author shows the England of Chaucer's time as well as giving some idea of Chaucer himself.

Clive. Arbuthnot, Sir Alexander. Baron Robert Clive. Longmans $1.50

A brief sketch showing Clive's real work and that he was not a mere adventurer, but a statesman with a comprehensive mind.

Clive. Macaulay, Thomas B. Lord Clive. Merrill 25c

An essay. Brilliantly written.

Cromwell. Frith, C. H. Oliver Cromwell. Putnam $1.50

"He has explained more clearly than any of his predecessors the true relation between Cromwell and his parliaments." Nation

Cromwell. Harrison, Frederick. Oliver Cromwell. Macmillan 75c

An excellent work for pupils of the high school.

Cromwell. Hathaway, Esse V. Cromwell. Rand 50c

A small volume but full of interest and well adapted to younger readers.

Drake. Towle, G. M. Drake, the Sea King of Devon. Lothrop $1

A good book to read in connection with the study of English history. It will help to create an interest in the study of history.

Elizabeth, Queen. Tappan, Eva March. In the Days of Queen Elizabeth. Lothrop $1

An exceedingly interesting book for school library work. It is at once a good account of Queen Elizabeth and a history of her times.

Fox. Trevelyan, Sir G. O. Charles James Fox. Harper $2.50

"Best picture ever drawn of the transition from old to new methods of statesmanship." Adams

Gladstone. Bryce, James. William Ewart Gladstone. Century $1

An excellent biography portraying Gladstone as a man, an author, a statesman, and an orator.

Hastings. Lyall, Sir A. C. Warren Hastings. Macmillan 75c

Written without bias. A fair presentation of a case that is usually written with much prejudice.

Hastings. *Macaulay, Thomas B. Warren Hastings. Merrill 25c

A very brilliant essay well worth reading both because of what is said and the way in which it is said.

Milton. Jenks, Tudor. In the Days of Milton. Barnes $1

A biography and at the same time a picture of the England of Milton's time. The England from which America drew its early settlers who brought the ideas of their time with them—the Cavaliers of Virginia and the Puritans of New England each with their differing ideals of life. We need to know the history of that time in order fully to understand the history of our own country.

Milton. *Macaulay, Thomas B. John Milton. Merrill 25c

Of value not only because of Milton as an author but also because of his part in the Puritan Revolution.

Nelson. Mahan, A. T. Lord Nelson. Little $3

Somewhat expensive for schools with a limited amount of money to spend, but a most excellent work, and in all respects authoritative. The author makes Nelson tell his own story as far as possible.

Nelson. *Southey, Robert. Lord Nelson. Dutton 35c, Longmans 60c, Putnam $1.50, Lippincott $2.50

The text is the same in all cases but the editions vary in binding, paper, print and illustrations.

O'Connell. Dunlop, Robert. Daniel O'Connell. Putnam $1.50

O'Connell's public career and the struggle for national life in Ireland.

Palmerston. Sanders, L. C. Lord Palmerston. Lippincott 75c

A study of the life of Palmerston is of special interest because beside being a great English statesman, he was premier at the time of our Civil War when the relations between England and our country were not always harmonious, and Lord Palmerston was inclined to favor the South.

Penn. Fisher, S. G. The True William Penn. Lippincott $2

Well worth reading for the purpose of getting a general knowledge of the Quaker movement in England.

Pitt. Rosebery, Lord. William Pitt. Macmillan 75c

Valuable for reference and excellent reading for advanced students.

Raleigh. Towle, G. M. Walter Raleigh. Lothrop $1

Sir Walter was a prominent member of the brilliant court of Queen Elizabeth, active in discovery and colonization, and successful in war. This volume is simply written and may be read with interest by comparatively young students.

Walpole. Morley, John. Sir Robert Walpole. Macmillan 75c

The political activity of Sir Robert Walpole covered the period from 1701 to 1742. He was the virtual ruler of England for a score of years. This volume throws light on a very important period of English history.

Warwick. Oman, C. W. C. Richard Neville Warwick. Macmillan 75c

Known as "The King Maker." The most powerful Englishman of the fifteenth century. This volume offers a thorough study of Warwick and the forces that controlled England and his time.

Wellington. Wheeler, H. F. B. The Story of Wellington. Crowell $1.50

Though called "The Boys' Wellington" it is fully difficult enough for the general reader. It is a good picture of the "Iron Duke," giving an account of his boyhood and his career as a warrior and a statesman.

William the Conqueror. Freeman, E. A. William the Conqueror. Macmillan 75c

A short, inexpensive, and readable account of the conqueror of England.

Wolfe. Bradley, A. G. James Wolfe. Macmillan 75c

One of Macmillan's "Men of Action" series. Very readable and treats of the final expulsion of the French from Canada.

Wolsey. Creighton, M. Cardinal Wolsey. Macmillan 75c

From Macmillan's "Twelve English Statesmen" series. A brief and readable volume that pupils can use with pleasure and profit.

Collective biography

Froude, James A. English Seamen of the Sixteenth Century. Scribner $1.50

A series of nine lectures brilliantly written tracing the naval power of England from its early days to the defeat of the Armada.

McCarthy, Justin. British Political Portraits. Macmillan $1.50

Smith, Goldwin. Three English Statesmen. Macmillan $1.50

Treats of Pym, Cromwell, and Pitt. The book covers a very important period of English history.

English History Stories. Merrill 50c

Delightful short biographies of Alfred the Great, William the Conqueror, Queen Elizabeth, Oliver Cromwell, and Queen Victoria.

HISTORICAL POEMS

The reading of historical poems adds interest to the study of history and in some cases adds to its vividness. This is true of such poems as Lord Byron's "The Eve of Waterloo." Nearly all the poems given in this list are to be found in Bates & Coman's

"English History as Told by the Poets." This book is published by Macmillan, the retail price being 60 cents.

Aytoun, William E. Edinburgh after Flodden

The story of the disastrous Battle of Flodden Field where the Scotch were utterly defeated with the loss of their king and many nobles. This poem is written with much spirit.

———— Killiecrankie

The Scotch Highlanders under Dundee fought and won the Battle of Killiecrankie but the death of Dundee was fatal to their cause.

———— Lament of Richard During His Imprisonment

Richard the Lion-Hearted led a crusade for the deliverance of Jerusalem. The enterprise failed and on his return to England Richard was taken prisoner by the Duke of Austria and held for a ransom. He was in prison for two years and tradition says that he composed this poem while in captivity.

———— The Execution of Montrose

The Marquis of Montrose at first sympathized with the Covenanters but later came to the support of the king and won six battles over the Covenanters. After the execution of King Charles he attached himself to young Stuart and attempted to raise an army for his cause. He was betrayed into the hands of his enemies and executed at Edinburgh.

Burns, Robert. Lament of Mary, Queen of Scots, on the Approach of Spring

The story of an unhappy queen.

———— The Battle of Bannockburn

In 1306 Robert Bruce declared himself in favor of Scottish independence and was chosen King of the Scotch. He led the Scottish forces at the Battle of Bannockburn and is supposed to have addressed his army in the words of the poem.

Byron, Lord George G. The Eve of Waterloo

The events of the evening before the decisive Battle of Waterloo.

Call, W. M. W. The People's Petition

Written to show the effect of the Corn Laws of 1815.

Campbell, Thomas. Ye Mariners of England

Written after, and because of, the English victory at Trafalgar.

Cowper, William. Boadicea

The story of the defeat of an English queen in the first century by the Romans.

Doyle, Sir Francis H. The Old Cavalier

The exclusion of dissenters from the right to hold public office bore heavily upon many of the Cavaliers who were Catholics. This poem is supposed to give their views.

Drayton, Michael. The Battle of Agincourt

The story of King Henry's victory over a French army that outnumbered his more than four to one. The victory was chiefly due to the skill of the English archers.

Hawker, Robert S. The Song of the Western Men

Under James II many of the clergy refused to read his Declaration of Indulgence to their congregations. Several of the bishops were thrown into the tower under a charge of seditious libel, among the number Trelawney, Bishop of Bristol; this created great excitement in Cornwall.

Lincoln, James. Simon de Montfort, Earl of Leicester

The Earl of Leicester stood against the weak Henry III and for the rights of the English people. Three times he was banished from the kingdom, and twice led an army against the royal troops. He was killed in 1265 at the Battle of Evesham.

Macaulay, Thomas B. The Armada

The defeat of the great Spanish fleet by the English was of great importance. The future history of the world was at stake in that battle.

——— The Battle of Naseby

Naseby is a village in Northamptonshire. It was here that the forces of King Charles under Prince Rupert were beaten by the parliamentary forces under Cromwell.

Massey, Gerald. Nelson

An account of the great sea fight at Trafalgar.

——— Robin Hood and Guy of Gisborne

An old English ballad treating of Robin Hood.

Rossetti, Dante Gabriel. The King's Tragedy

Treats of James I of Scotland.

——— The White Ship

Treats of Henry I of England.

Shakspeare, William. King John

Act 3, scene 3; act 4, scene 1; act 5, scene 7. The story of King John's efforts to rid himself of Duke Arthur.

——— Richard III

The story of a famous English king.

Scott, Sir Walter. Battle of Bannockburn

The same story told by Robert Burns under the same title.

——— Marmion

——— The Lady of the Lake

——— The Lay of the Last Minstrel

All three of these poems deal with Scottish history.

Southey, Robert. King Henry V and the Hermit of Dreux

Henry V claimed the throne of France. The French rose in revolt against him. The poem tells of the warning given by a hermit as the king was besieging Dreux.

——— The Death of Wallace

King Edward I undertook to bring all Great Britain under his rule. In this he succeeded but the Scotch, under the lead of William Wallace, revolted. The Scotch won a great victory at Stirling Bridge in 1297 but the following year they were defeated at Falkirk. Wallace was captured after the battle, taken to London and after being dragged through the streets for a show to the people was executed.

Taylor, Bayard. Song of the Camp

Treats of the Crimean War.

Tennyson, Lord Alfred. Ode on the Death of the Duke of Wellington

Thackeray, William M. King Canute

Canute was a Norseman who ruled England, Scotland, Denmark, Iceland, and the islands of the North sea. He ruled so long and became so powerful that he was flattered by his courtiers so fulsomely that he rebuked them in the manner stated in the poem.

Wolfe, Charles. The Burial of Sir John Moore

Moore was killed while repulsing a superior force of French in Spain. This was at the time of Napoleon.

Wordsworth, William. Glad Tidings

An account of the introduction of Christianity into Britain by Augustine in 597.

"The book is certainly the best modern account of Napoleon in the English language." Academy

Napoleon. Rose, J. H. Pitt and Napoleon. 2 vols. Macmillan $3.25

Deals with the public career of Napoleon, and his diplomacy and government rather than with his military career.

Napoleon. Seeley, Sir J. R. Short History of Napoleon the First. Little $1.50

Well written. Hostile to Napoleon.

Napoleon. Wheeler, Harold F. B. The Boys' Napoleon. Crowell $1.50

A book full of interest and will be read by young people with more interest, and probably more profit, than would be the case with the efforts of some men who have been more thorough students of Napoleon.

Richelieu. Lodge, Richard. Richelieu. Macmillan 75c

"A very brief account of the famous cardinal, based upon the most recent authorities." Nation

Richelieu. Perkins, James Breek. Richelieu and the Growth of French Power. Putnam $1.50

"One of the very best of an almost uniformly excellent series." Outlook

Robespierre. Belloc, Hilaire. Robespierre. Scribner $2

A vivid picture of the man without very much discussion of the history of the revolution.

HISTORICAL POEMS

All the following poems may be found in two volumes of Longfellow's "Poems of Places," the two on France.

European Historical Poems

Byron, Lord G. N. G. The Eve of Waterloo

A very spirited poem giving a sketch of what is supposed to have happened the evening before the battle. The ball referred to really took place three days before the battle.

Halleck, Fitz-Greene. Marco Bozarris

Marco Bozarris was a Greek patriot who took a leading part in the war against the Turks which resulted in Grecian independence. He attacked a Turkish force much larger than his own and won a decisive victory, but was mortally wounded.

Lockhart, J. G. The Lord of Butrago

The incident related in this poem is supposed to have taken place at the famous battle where King Juan the First, of Castile, was defeated by the Portuguese.

Lowell, Robert S. The Relief of Lucknow

A story of the Indian mutiny in 1857 and the relief of Lucknow which had been besieged for about three months when General Havelock came to the relief of the garrison.

Taylor, Bayard. Song of the Camp

An incident of the siege of Sebastopol by the French and English in the Crimean War.

Tennyson, Alfred. Charge of the Light Brigade

A famous poem describing a military blunder during the Crimean War, a blunder that showed the unshrinking loyalty and marvelous courage of the British soldiers.

Wolfe, Charles. The Burial of Sir John Moore

This poem describes an incident of Wellington's campaign against Napoleon in Spain in 1809.

All the poems in this list may be found in Montgomery's "Heroic Ballads" published by Ginn & Co. They can also be found in many other collections, but perhaps not all in any other single collection that can be had at so small a cost.

AMERICAN HISTORY

320 Abbott, W. J. The Story of Our Navy. Dodd $2

A very elementary work but one that will be read by pupils with pleasure and profit.

300 Alexander, D. S. Political History of the State of New York. 3 vols. Holt $7.50

The only work on this subject that is anywhere near down to date and excels all other works of its class.

Contains an excellent account of the Indians.

- 973 Finley, John. The French in the Heart of America. Scribner $2.50

Treats of the St Lawrence, Ohio, and Mississippi valleys, and the region of the Great Lakes. A great amount and variety of information is given in a very charming and attractive form. The author is familiar with the country of which he writes through having lived in a part of it, and through having visited most of the country in which he has not lived. This has enabled him to vivify his narrative as he could not otherwise have done. It is a delightful and useful work.

- 973 Fish, C. F. The Development of American Nationality. Am. Bk. Co. $2.25

Covers the period from 1783 to the present time. The bibliographic notes at the end of each chapter are full. The work will appeal to the better pupils in our secondary schools and will be valuable for the teacher's use.

- 973 Jenks, Tudor. When America Was New. Crowell 75c

——— When America Won Liberty. Crowell 75c

——— When America Became a Nation. Crowell 75c

These books have some practical merits. Each chapter is complete in itself. The style is simple, forceful, and clear. The reader may take up the particular subject or subjects in which he is interested, read about those, and lay the book aside, having read completely the matter in which he was interested. Among the more than forty chapters are the following: The Different Settlers, New World Living, Making the Homestead, Manners and Customs, The Indoor Life, What the Colonists Knew and Thought, Books, Reading and Education, Effects of the New Life, The Women and Children, Growth of a New People, Independence and Union, The French and English Disputes in America, The Colonies under English Rule, Growth in Wealth and Resources, Education and Public Leaders, The State of the Country before the Revolution, After the Revolution, The Republic Begins, Growing Westward, Expansion of Land and Sea, Seeking the World's Commerce, Unifying the Nation, Era of Improvement, Modern Ways Begin, The Great Expansion.

973 Trevelyan, G. O. The American Revolution. 4 vols. Longmans $10

"With Fox as a central figure the story of the American Revolution is told with freshness, no small knowledge, and in a spirit of generous sympathy with all that was best in the Revolution . . . Here and there are brilliant sketches of men and manners, and terse epigrammatic sayings." London Times

A rather expensive work but very desirable for schools that can afford it and that give considerable time to the history of our country.

973 Worcester, Dean C. The Philippines, Past and Present. 2 vols. Macmillan $6

A thoroughly up-to-date work of great present interest written by one who is thoroughly conversant with the subject.

330 *Wright, C. D. Industrial Revolution of the United States. Scribner $1.25

"Concise sketches development of mechanical industries, growth of factory system, labor movement and influence of machinery." N.Y.

CIVICS, ECONOMICS, AND SOCIAL LIFE

The following list is a rather long one, not because it is thought that any single library should buy a large number of volumes on these subjects, but to afford a wide range of choice and to give some idea of what is available. A number of books are included in this list that are also given in the history list. It is believed that such an arrangement will prove helpful.

331 *Addams, Jane. The Spirit of Youth and the City Streets. Macmillan $1.25

"Interprets sympathetically the instinct of youth for play and adventure, and points out the responsibility resting upon cities to provide proper places of amusement." N.Y.

920

Individual biography

Adams. Morse, John Torrey. John Adams. Houghton $1.25

"We have John Adams, the man and patriot, in all his rugged honesty, full of courage in great emergencies when others fell away, pugnacious, wise, when his judgment was not clouded by passion, a statesman without tact, vain and conceited, yet always a patriot, possessing the traits found in most of the world's great heroes, yet not reaching the stature of a hero. It is a truthful portrait." Dial

Valuable for reference in studying the Revolutionary period.

Adams. Morse, John Torrey. John Quincy Adams. Houghton $1.25

"That Mr Morse's conclusions will be those of posterity, we have very little doubt, and he has set an admirable example to his coadjutors in respect of interesting narrative, just proportion, and judicial candor. If entire patriotism, incorruptibility, political fairness, prescience, initiative and high physical and moral courage are the marks of statesmanship it would be difficult to point to any of his contemporaries or successors who possessed them in an equal degree with Mr Adams." Nation

Valuable for reference in studying the exciting events that led up to the War of 1812.

Adams. Hosmer, James. Samuel Adams. Houghton $1.25

Adams was the agitator of the Revolution and his life is well worth reading. Hosmer's work is really a study of the New England town meeting with Adams as the foremost figure. Valuable for reference in studying the prerevolutionary period.

Beecher. Barrows, John Henry. Henry Ward Beecher. Funk
$1.50

One of the greatest preachers and lecturers our country has produced. He has sometimes been called "The Shakspeare of the Pulpit." He was very active in sustaining the cause of the Union during the Civil War and made a series of speeches in the interest of the Union in England.

Benton. Roosevelt, Theodore. Thomas Hart Benton. Houghton
$1.25

"The author understands Benton and sympathizes with him, points out his merits and demerits as a statesman." L.A.H.

Blaine. Stanwood, E. James G. Blaine. Houghton $1.25

"A favorable but fair estimate of Blaine's political career by a life-long personal friend." A.L.A.

Boone. Thwaites, R. G. Daniel Boone. Appleton $1

Probably the best work describing Boone and his part in the development of the Tennessee and Kentucky country. Boone's place among the western pioneers is made clear.

Brown. Hinton, Richard. John Brown and His Men. Funk $1.50

Treats of a phase of our history well worth reading.

Burr. Merwin, H. C. Aaron Burr. Small 50c

A brief biography dealing more with the private life of Burr than with his political career.

Calhoun. Hunt, Gaillard. John C. Calhoun. Jacobs $1.25

Calhoun was in public life from 1811 to his death in 1850. He was member of Congress, Secretary of State, Vice President, and United States Senator and played a most important part in the history of our country. This work is popular in style and gives more attention to the personal history of Calhoun than most of his biographies do, and yet does not neglect his part in political history.

Champlain. Sedgwick, Henry Dwight. Samuel de Champlain.
Houghton 65c

A brief sketch for young readers, but gives all that high school pupils will care to know of the founder of Canada.

Clay. Schurz, Carl. Henry Clay. 2 vols. Houghton $2.50

"Really a political history of the United States, based upon the public life of Henry Clay. . . . We do not know of any book of like compass so well suited as this to give young Americans a knowledge of the history of their country during those stirring years—at once accurate, graphic, and pervaded by a strong moral sense." Nation

Columbus. *Seelye, Mrs E. E. Christopher Columbus. Appleton $1.75

"One of the most attractive and reliable of the shorter volumes about Columbus." Pittsburgh

Cooper. Raymond, R. W. Peter Cooper. Houghton 65c

An excellent short biography of an inventor, business man and philanthropist. As founder of Cooper Union his life is of especial interest.

Douglas. Brown, W. G. Stephen A. Douglas. Houghton 65c

One should know the great rival of Lincoln in order to understand the period just before the Civil War. The author has presented Douglas as a man as well as a politician, giving his part in the compromises of 1850, and the Kansas-Nebraska legislation, as well as in the disruption of the Democratic party, and the creation of a Democratic War party after secession.

Douglass. Washington, Booker T. Frederick Douglass. Jacobs
$1.25

"Impartial, sympathetic study of the career of Douglass from slavery, through the antislavery movement, the Civil War, reconstruction days and the later period." A.L.A.

Edison. Jones, F. A. Thomas A. Edison. Crowell $2

The story of a man fitly called "The Wizard." The story is told simply, but with enthusiasm, and will be read with interest.

Farragut. Mahan, A. T. David G. Farragut. Appleton $1.25

"A valuable critical history of Farragut's operations." Nation

Franklin. Benjamin Franklin, Autobiography. Edited and added to by John Bigelow. 3 vols. Lippincott $4.50

"Not only one of the most widely read and readable books in our language, but has had the distinction of enriching the literature of nearly every other." John Bigelow

Franklin. Benjamin Franklin, Autobiography. Houghton 75c

Should be read by everyone.

Franklin. Morse, John Torrey. Benjamin Franklin. Houghton
$1.25

"Ranks high among the minor biographies of Franklin." L.A.H.

Garrison, William Lloyd. Smith, Goldwin. The Moral Crusader.
Funk $1

"A résumé, put with clearness and power of one of our first masters of English, of the career of one of our purest and strongest men." L.A.H.

Gough. Martyn, Carlos. John B. Gough. Funk $1.50

A very helpful book written in an interesting style. A good book for the young to read.

Grant. Garland, Hamlin. Life of Grant. Doubleday $2.50

"Gives many anecdotes and much detailed information about periods of his life usually treated at less length, such as his boyhood, life at West Point, army life in California, and the period after leaving the presidency."

Pittsburgh

The book is a large one but very readable and the style is quite unlike the usual biography. It gives, if not a new conception of the life of Grant, at least a much modified one.

Grant. Goss, Warren Lee. Life of Grant for Boys and Girls.
Crowell $1.50

Perhaps there is no other life of Grant that high school pupils will read with so much interest.

Grant. Wister, Owen. Ulysses S. Grant. Small 75c

A most excellent biography, dealing in high praise and unsparing criticism as the author thinks each are called for.

Grant, Ulysses S. Personal Memoirs. 2 vols. Century $5

Modest, unassuming, and charmingly written.

Greeley. Zabriskie, Francis N. Horace Greeley the Editor.
Funk $1.50

This is not only a good biography of Greeley, but to a considerable extent it is a history of the times. Written in a style that will be likely to appeal to young people.

Hale. Partridge, William O. Nathan Hale the Ideal Patriot. Funk $1

The life of a young patriot and a contrast between him and André. A book that young people would be likely to read with interest and profit.

Hamilton. Lodge, H. C. Alexander Hamilton. Houghton $1.25

"Brings into strong relief the salient features of Hamilton's character and work. Few books so well adapted to kindle an intelligent interest in American history." L.A.H.

Hancock. Sears, Lorenzo. John Hancock. Little $1.50

No really satisfactory life of Hancock has been written but he played so important a part in our struggle with Great Britain that it is desirable that students should get some idea of the man and what he did beyond what is given in the school histories.

Henry. Tyler, M. C. Patrick Henry. Houghton $1.25

"May be fairly said to reconstruct the life of Patrick Henry, and to vindicate his memory from the unappreciative and injurious estimate which has been placed on it." Nation

Jackson. Brown, W. G. Andrew Jackson. Houghton 65c

A shorter and less expensive work than Sumner's. Perhaps more satisfactory for younger readers. An unusually impartial work.

Jackson. Hovey, Carl. Andrew Jackson. Small 50c

"Brief biography, particularly good for its presentment of a simple and noble character." Pittsburgh

Jackson. Sumner, William G. Andrew Jackson. Houghton $1.25

Of especial interest because of the financial history of the country during Jackson's administration. Also treats of other political matters of interest including removals from office, the beginning of the "spoils system."

Jay. Pellew, William George. John Jay. Houghton $1.25

"Thoughtful and judicious account of the life of one of the best and ablest of the old Federalist statesmen. . . . It abounds in excerpts from Jay's correspondence, and gives an unusually clear picture of the Revolutionary period and two succeeding generations." L.A.H.

Jefferson. Merwin, H. C. Thomas Jefferson. Houghton 65c

A brief and impartial biography.

Jefferson. Morse, J. T. Thomas Jefferson. Houghton $1.25

An interesting biography of a man with a fascinating history. Largely taken up with Jefferson's official career.

Jefferson. Schouler, James. Thomas Jefferson. Small 50c

"Brings out clearly Jefferson's far-seeing intuition, not only in statecraft but also in moral and educational matters." Pittsburgh

Johnson. Griffis, W. E. Sir William Johnson and the Six Nations. Dodd $1

"Practically the Indian history of the Mohawk valley. Dwells longest on the earlier and less generally known portion of Johnson's life and gives but cursory review of later and more active years." L.A.H.

Jones. Brady, Cyrus T. Paul Jones. Appleton $1.50

One of the most picturesque characters in our history. This work is written by a great admirer of Jones and in a style that will captivate young readers.

Jones. Buell, A. C. Paul Jones. 2 vols. Scribner $3

"Exhaustive, based largely on fresh research and written with enthusiastic admiration of his hero." N.Y.

Lee. Cooke, John Esten. Robert E. Lee. Dillingham $1.50

"This life, though one of the earliest published, remains one of the best biographies of Lee. It is an affectionate, reverential estimate of the Confederate chief, full and accurate enough to be a trustworthy guide, and broad enough to command respect. . . . It is strongly Confederate but free from bitterness." L.A.H.

Lincoln. Morse, J. T. Abraham Lincoln. 2 vols. Houghton $2.50

"Best brief life of Lincoln, condensed but clear. Very careful of facts." L.A.H.

Lincoln. Rothschild, Alonzo. Lincoln, Master of Men. Houghton $1.75

Deals with a new phase of Lincoln's life.

Lincoln. Schurz, Carl. Abraham Lincoln. Houghton $1

"Noteworthy short sketch of the character and achievements of the great President." Pittsburgh

Lincoln. Tarbell, Ida M. Life of Abraham Lincoln. 2 vols. Doubleday $5

Gives a better idea of the life of the boy, and a better picture of the man as an individual than is found elsewhere.

Madison. Gay, Sydney H. James Madison. Houghton $1.25

Valuable for reference in studying the constitutional convention or the War of 1812.

Marquette. Thwaites, Reuben G. Father Marquette. Appleton $1.20

Useful in studying the discoveries and explorations of the Mississippi valley.

Marshall. Magruder, A. B. John Marshall. Houghton $1.25

"Although Marshall's fame rests upon his judicial services, he was made Chief Justice because of the eminent ability he had shown in other fields than that of the bench, and the volume is especially interesting because it reminds the reader how wide and diversified were the gifts of the men who formed the statesmen of the earlier period." Atlantic Monthly

Marshall. Thayer, J. B. John Marshall. Houghton 65c

The life of John Marshall is full of interest, and throws much light on early history in Virginia, and to some extent on the political history of the country. The life of Marshall by Beveridge is more interesting, but it is in two large volumes and is rather expensive.

Monroe. Gilman, D. C. James Monroe. Houghton $1.25

"Short, simple account of the most important events in Monroe's life. Thorough bibliography of Monroe and the Monroe doctrine materially adds to value." A.L.A.

Morris. Sumner, William G. Robert Morris. Houghton $1.25

Morris, the patriot and financier of the Revolution, deserves more consideration than he has received and more than Sumner gives him.

Morris. Oberholtzer, E. P. Robert Morris, Financier and Patriot.
Macmillan $3

A more expensive work than the preceding and also far more just and satisfactory.

Penn. Fisher, Sydney George. True William Penn. Lippincott $2

"There is a very interesting description of the condition of life in the time when Penn was growing up so that it is not at all difficult to understand how this youth, having chances to enjoy the gay career of a courtier, preferred to cast his lot with the persecuted Quakers. The changes in his thought as the panorama of his life shifted are admirably set forth." Dial

Phillips. Martyn, Carlos. Wendell Phillips. Funk $1.50

A vivid portrayal of the antislavery struggle, and the story of a great orator and a remarkable man. He was a graduate of Harvard, a lawyer, a friend of Sumner, and a favorite pupil of Judge Story who predicted great things for him. Phillips was perhaps the greatest public lecturer this country has produced.

Randolph. Adams, Henry. John Randolph. Houghton $1.25

Carefully prepared, though unsympathetic, biography. Of value to the student of political history.

Schuyler. Lossing, Benson J. Life and Times of Major General Philip Schuyler. 2 vols. Holt $3.50

The story of one of the great men of the State of New York told skilfully and in an entertaining manner. A book worthy of a place in every high school library.

Schuyler. Tuckerman, B. Life of General Philip Schuyler.
Dodd $1.60

A less expensive work than the preceding one. Well written and instructive but not so interesting as that of Lossing.

Seward. Lothrop, Thornton. William H. Seward. Houghton
$1.25

The history of a period as well as a biography. Seward's high purpose and strength of character are impressed upon the reader.

Sheridan. Goss, Warren Lee. Life of General Sheridan.
Crowell $1.50

An intensely interesting book. It gives many vivid pictures of warfare, and a clear idea of the character of Sheridan.

Sherman. Memoirs. 2 vols. Appleton $5

"The free use he makes of his letters, orders, and reports gives a very great interest and value to his book. He is never dull, and he contrives to break up and enliven even the accounts of the movement of troops so that the attention never seriously flags. . . . His memoirs close with the great review at Washington, but he appends a concluding chapter on the military lessons of the war, which is full of knowledge, wisdom and sound sense."

Atlantic Monthly

Smith. Forbes-Lindsley, C. H. John Smith, Gentleman-Adventurer. Lippincott $1.50

A life history that reads like a romance.

Stuyvesant. Tuckerman, Bayard. Peter Stuyvesant. Dodd $1

The last and the greatest of the Dutch governors. Well worth reading. The volume treats to some extent of all the Dutch governors.

Sumner. Storey, Moorfield. Charles Sumner. Houghton $1.25

To one who would know the history of the slavery issue that led to the Civil War, the legislation by Congress during the war and the period of reconstruction, as well as our foreign relations from 1861 to 1871, the life of Sumner is important. This particular life, while valuable in many respects, is not written in a particularly attractive style.

Van Buren. Shepard, E. M. Martin Van Buren. Houghton $1.25

"This essay is admirable and it certainly casts a strong and not unpleasing light upon a rather dark period in our political history." Nation

Washington. Wilson, Woodrow. George Washington. Harper $1.50

An excellent life of Washington and very attractively written.

Washington. Wister, Owen. Seven Ages of Washington. Macmillan $2

Portraits in miniature of certain periods in Washington's life; brilliantly written and abounding in human interest. Not an idealized Washington, but a Washington of flesh and blood.

Washington. Ford, Paul L. The True George Washington. Lippincott $2

An attempt to portray Washington as a man rather than as a demigod. A good book for the general reader.

Washington. Lodge, Henry Cabot. George Washington. 2 vols. Houghton $2.50

Probably the best biography of Washington for one who wishes an exhaustive and critical work.

Washington. *Scudder, H. E. George Washington. Houghton 60c

"One of the best lives of Washington for young readers and among the best one-volume lives of Washington for readers of any age." L.A.H.

Washington, Booker T. Up from Slavery. An autobiography. Doubleday $1.50

A very remarkable character and one well worth studying.

Webster. Lodge, Henry Cabot. Daniel Webster. Houghton $1.25

"Appreciative study by a well-informed scholar. Points out faults as well as merits." L.A.H.

Valuable for reference in studying the history of our country during the great sectional struggle in which Clay, Webster and Calhoun were the most prominent figures.

Collective biography

Brooks, Geraldine. Dames and Daughters of Colonial Days. Crowell $1.50

Treats of Anne Hutchinson of Massachusetts, Madame LaTour of Acadia, Margaret Brent of Maryland, Sarah Knight of Massachusetts, Eliza Lucas of the Carolinas, Martha Washington of Virginia, Betsey Schuyler of New York, Deborah Norris and Sally Wister of Pennsylvania.

Bruce, Henry A. B. Woman in the Making of America. Little $1.50

Made up chiefly of the stories of strong and patriotic women who bore a heroic part in the Indian warfare in colonial times, or who were actively engaged in the relief work of the Revolution and of the Civil War, and of those who have been prominent in the struggles for social justice.

Colby, C. W. Canadian Types of the Old Régime. Holt $2.75

Lectures on the most significant phases of life in New France, illustrated by biographies of prominent characters of New France.

Ellet, Elizabeth F. Women of the American Revolution. 2 vols.

Jacobs $3.50

Biographical sketches of about one hundred women who were prominent in Revolutionary history. A book that pupils will read with interest.

Frothingham, J. B. Sea Fighters from Drake to Farragut.

Scribner $1.20

Stirring events in the lives of Drake, Tromp, DeRuyter, Tourville, Suffren, Paul Jones, Nelson and Farragut.

Iles, George. Leading American Inventors. Holt $1.75

Contains much information regarding recent inventors not readily found elsewhere. A book that will interest the general reader.

Sparks, E. E. The Men Who Made the Nation. Macmillan 50c

Contents: Benjamin Franklin, the Colonial Agent in England; Samuel Adams, the Man of the Town Meeting; John Adams, the Partisan of Independence; Robert Morris, the Financier of the Revolution; Alexander Hamilton, the Advocate of a Stronger Government; George Washington, the First President; Thomas Jefferson, the Exponent of Democracy; Henry Clay, the Father of Public Improvements; Andrew Jackson, the People's President; Daniel Webster, the Defender of the Constitution; Horace Greeley, the Antislavery Editor; Abraham Lincoln, a New Type of American.

Stevenson, Burton E. Poems of American History. Houghton

With one or two exceptions all the poems given in the following list are to be found in Stevenson's Poems of American History, but independent of this fact the book is worthy a place in every school library.

HISTORICAL POEMS

The story of Roger Williams fleeing to the forest in midwinter to escape being sent back to England by the Puritans whom he had offended by his liberal sentiments.

——— The Fountain of Youth

The story of the search of Ponce De Leon for the fabulous island that was supposed to contain a fountain with such marvelous powers that whoever bathed in it would be restored to youth.

——— Whitman's Ride for Oregon

Dr Marcus Whitman rode across the continent from Oregon and went to Washington and aroused the officials there to take such action as saved to this country the great Oregon region. The story is vividly told.

Byers, Samuel H. M. Sherman's March to the Sea

The famous march told in verse.

Drake, James Rodman. The American Flag

A description of the American flag and what it stands for.

Emerson, Ralph Waldo. The Concord Hymn

Sung at the completion of the monument commemorating the battle.

English, Thomas Dunn. Arnold at Stillwater

A vivid account of Arnold at the first battle of Freeman's Farm.

——— The Battle of New Orleans

A good account of the battle in verse.

Finch, Francis Miles. Nathan Hale

The story of the execution of Nathan Hale as a spy.

——— The Blue and the Gray

A manifestation of the kindlier spirit that followed the bitterness that existed at the close of the Civil War.

Gibbons, J. Sloan. Three Hundred Thousand More

McClellan had lost seventy thousand men in a vain attempt to capture Richmond. After a personal visit to the army, President Lincoln called for three hundred thousand more troops.

Halpine, Charles G. The Song of Sherman's Army

An account of Sherman's march from Atlanta to the sea.

Harte, Bret. John Burns of Gettysburg

John Burns, a veteran of the War of 1812 and of the Mexican War, wished to serve in the Civil War but was rejected on account of his age, but when Lee invaded Pennsylvania Burns shouldered his rifle and fought independently at Gettysburg.

Hemans, Felicia. The Landing of the Pilgrims

The title of the poem tells its story.

Holmes, Oliver Wendell. A Ballad of the Boston Tea Party

The story is indicated by the title of the poem.

——— Old Ironsides

The frigate Constitution, later known as Old Ironsides, was a singularly fortunate vessel. She took part in the bombardment of Tripoli, and in the War of 1812 captured many British vessels including the Guerriere. Soon after Holmes was graduated from college, the Secretary of the Navy ordered the old vessel to be broken up. Holmes wrote his famous poem which so stirred the country that the order for the destruction of the famous vessel was revoked.

——— Grandmother's Story of the Battle of Bunker Hill

An account of the Battle of Bunker Hill as it was supposed to have been seen from a belfry by an old lady.

Hopkinson, Joseph. Hail Columbia

Written in 1798 at the time of the great excitement over the prospect of war with France. First sung at the Chestnut Street Theater, Philadelphia, in May 1798.

Howe, Julia Ward. Battle-hymn of the Republic

Written during the Civil War when the author was on a visit to Washington.

Key, Francis Scott. The Star-Spangled Banner

On the 14th of September 1814, when the British were bombarding Fort McHenry at Baltimore, the author of this poem was temporarily a prisoner on board the British flagship, and he expressed his anxiety in the lines of this poem which immediately became popular and soon came to be regarded as the national hymn.

Lanier, Sidney. Lexington

A vivid account of the engagement.

Longfellow, Henry W. Paul Revere's Ride

The story of the midnight ride of Paul Revere to warn the people that the British were to march against Lexington and Concord.

——— The Ship of State

An extract from "The Building of the Ship."

——— The Skeleton in Armor

The story of Vinland as told in the Icelandic chronicle. The writer of this poem was prompted by the finding of a skeleton with some pieces of metal that may have served as armor, near Fall River, Mass.

Miller, Joaquin. Columbus

The story of the first voyage of Columbus across the Atlantic.

Perry, Nora. Balboa

The story of the explorations of Balboa and his discovery of the Pacific Ocean.

An account of the capture of Ticonderoga by Allen.

Stedman, Edmund C. Peter Stuyvesant's New Year's Call

A fine description of life on Manhattan island at the time of Peter Stuyvesant.

Taylor, Bayard. Through Baltimore

When the federal troops were marching to Washington to protect the national capital at the time of the outbreak of the Civil War, they were fired upon when marching through Baltimore. Several soldiers, as well as citizens, were killed or wounded. The poem commemorates that event.

Taylor, Tom. Abraham Lincoln

A tribute to Lincoln by Tom Taylor, the editor of London Punch. Taylor had caricatured Lincoln, and written scurrilous articles about him. After Lincoln's death this poem appeared.

Whitman, Walt. O Captain! My Captain!

The author of this poem was a volunteer nurse in the hospital at Washington. He knew and loved Mr Lincoln, and this is his tribute to him, written just after the murder.

Whittier, John G. At Port Royal

Based upon the capture of Port Royal by the federal forces in order to perfect their blockade of the coast.

——— Barbara Frietchie

An incident assumed to have occurred at the time Lee marched through Frederick. Though wholly fanciful it is full of interest, and very smoothly written.

——— Centennial Hymn

Sung at the centennial celebration at Philadelphia by a chorus of a thousand voices.

——— Ichabod

This poem was written by Whittier at the time that Webster in the United States Senate made a speech defending the fugitive slave law. The force of the poem will be more keenly felt if it is remembered that Ichabod means "the glory is departed."

——— Lexington

The character of the men at Lexington.

Life in New England in the early days of the Revolution. Scene laid in Marblehead.

Dix, Beulah M. Soldier Rigdale. Macmillan $1.50

About a boy who came over in the Mayflower and was befriended by Miles Standish. It treats of the life of the early Pilgrims, and gives some idea of Indian life.

Doyle, A. Conan. The Refugees. Harper $1.75

The Huguenots in France and in Canada.

Fox, John. The Little Shepherd of Kingdom Come. Scribner
$1.25

The Kentucky blue grass country during the Civil War. Introduces Morgan the raider, and gives a vivid picture of the bitter sectional feeling that existed in that section.

*Frederic, Harold. In the Valley. Scribner $1.50

Describes the Mohawk valley just before and during the Revolution. Gives an excellent account of the Battle of Oriskany. One of the best works of historical fiction dealing with our country. Should be in every school library.

Glasgow, Ellen. The Battle Ground. Doubleday $1.50

First part a sympathetic and oftentimes humorous portrayal of the life of wealthy Virginians before secession. The second half a vivid picture of the war; impressionistic; rather the mournful underside of the war than the heroic; halts and bivouacs, hospitals, the miseries of noncombatants. Fair to both sides, though as a whole a representation of the southern tragedy.

Goodwin, Mrs Maud. The Head of a Hundred. Little $1.50

The story of the settlement of Jamestown.

—— White Aprons. Little $1.50

A romance of Bacon's rebellion in Virginia in 1676.

A picture of cowboy life. Fine descriptions.

Wright, Harold Bell. The Winning of Barbara Worth.

Chicago Bk. Supply Co. $1.30

Deals with the problem of reclaiming a vast tract of land in the Colorado desert, and valuable chiefly on this account, though there is a good delineation of character and some fine description. Rather prolix.
